STATE OF INDIANA

VERMILLION COUNTY, SS:

The State of Indiana, to the Sheriff of said County, Greeting: We command you to summons Jane Thomas (Widow). Philemon Thomas, John W. Thomas, Eli D. Thomas, Elizabeth Ann Thomas, Nathan Thomas, Andrew A. Thomas, Trustan Thomas and Joseph N. Thomas, if they may be found in your Bailiwick, personally to be and appear before our Judge in our Probate Court to be held at Newport on the Second Monday in November, next on the first day of the term thereof and show cause if any they can, why the real estate of Eli Thomas, deceased, or so much thereof as will pay the debts should not be sold as prescribed by law. Hereof the above named persons will in nowise fail under the penalty of one hundred dollars each; and of this writ make due return.

Witness John W. Bush, Clerk of said Court at Newport, the 17th day of August, 1855

(SEAL) JOHN W. BUSH

CLERKS'S CERTIFICATE

I, Carl R. Biggs, Clerk of the Vermillion Circuit Court, hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true, and correct copy of the summons issued in the matter of the petition to sell real estate in the Estate of Eli Thomas, as the same appears of record in Probate Box 7, said record now in this office.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have here unto set my hand and the seal of the Vermillion Circuit Court, at my office in Newport, Indiana, this 29th day of June 1948.

ST. MATTHEW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH, EVANSTON, ILLINOIS.

St. Matthew's Mission, Evanston, was founded by the Rev. J. Stewart Smith, Rector of St. Mark's Church, Evanston. Services every third Sunday were held for three months, until 1878. Then regular services and Sunday School was opened. Chancellor Jenks, an Evanstonian, gave a lot to the Church and on May 1, 1882 Articles of Agreement were drawn up between Mr. Jenks and the Bishop (Rt.Rev. Wm. S. McLaren) in regard to the erection of a building. Work began and on July, 1, 1883 the Church was ready.

THE PIONEER ANDERSONS - AN AMERICAN PROTESTANT FAMILY OF IRISH DESCENT.

THE PIONEER Anderson family descendants of William Anderson, Sr. of Pennsylvania and Kentucky is such an outstanding family in the early history of the "Irish Settlement" that the writer went to considerable trouble to collect data on its early days here and elsewhere. To the end that this data may bepreserved for future use, space is given it as follows:

Sketch of the pioneer family of William Anderson, Sr. - William Anderson, Sr., of Ireland, Indiana was born in Pennsylvania, November 21, 1763 and died at Ireland, Ind., April 22, 1836. He had a brother named Andrew Anderson who remained under the old flag and went to Canada, but he had no sisters. The father's name was Gilbert Anderson and he came from Old Ireland. The mother's name was Matilda. It was thought that both Gilbert Anderson and his son William Anderson, Sr., were soldiers in the American Revolution. It was claimed that William came originally from Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Wm. Anderson, Sr., married Miss Jane Bell, who was said to have lived about thirty miles from Philadelphia. She was born in Pennsylvania, March 29, 1771, and died at Ireland, April 18, 1844. The graves of these two Dubois County pioneers are in Hillsboro Cemetary. After their marriage these two people lived near the junction of the Alleghany and Monongahela Rivers, then moved to Mercer County, Kentucky, where several of their nine children were born. They had five sons and four daughters. One daughter, Matilda, died in Kentucky. One son, Thomas Anderson, Sr., (also buried in the Hillsboro Cemetary) enlisted in the war of 1812, in Mercer County, Kentucky. It is said that he was in the battle of Chalmette, generally known as the battle of New Orleans, and that he saw the English commander fall. After the war, Thomas Anderson, Sr., walked from New Orleans to Kentucky, then on to Dubois County, Indiana.

During the War of 1812, William Anderson, Sr. moved his family from Mercer County, Kentucky to the northeast quarter of section twenty-five, southwest of the town of Ireland. In 1812, Dubois County was a part of Knox County; in 1813, a part of Gibson, then a part of Pike, and in 1817 it became Dubois County, so it may be said that William Anderson, Sr., lived in several

*Gilbert Anderson's wife's name was Barbara, not Matilda. Their oldest daughter's name was Matilda. I mean William and Jane Bell Anderson's oldest daughter. She was two years older than great Aunt Jennie.

Indiana counties and never left his farm. He and the younger members of his family reached Dubois County May 7, 1815.

The members of the Anderson family are not an imaginative people, nor are they inclined to insist on a statement without some unusually strong reason back of it. They are firmly of the belief through years of tradition and much unusual show of incidents that Wm. Anderson, Sr., was a soldier in the American Revolution, and that Thomas Anderson, Sr., was a soldier in the War of 1812. The writer had unbounded faith in their traditions so after much sympathetic and friendly research and correspondence with librarians, officians and other intelligent and well informed people in New Orleans, Frankfort, Louisville, and in Mercer County, Kentucky, Pike, Gibson and Knox Counties, Indiana and two or three Federal departments at Washington, D. C. he has been able to prove the war traditions by official or printed old-time authority, such as the names of company and regiment. County, State and National Libraries were examined; United States Senators, Congressmen, other high Federal officials, historian, etc., lent their service to locate and identify the records - all to eventual success. The Anderson swords, uniforms, and military knowledge show military service. The men were soldiers but their identity had been lost because the name was common.

A soldier of the American Revolution who applied for a pension had all his military history thoroughly assembled and recorded in his application, while he was living, able to recall it, and to prove it by his comrades and by the authorities at Washington, D.C. His descendants have no trouble proving his record, but many of those who did not ask for a pension left no safe cue by which their military record and identity can be established. The Andersons were not pensioners. Because a service had not been proven before this time is not proof that there was no service. Today the laurel wreaths of personal identification and official recognition are theirs.

According to Pennsylvania records the name William Anderson appears seven times as a soldier in the Pennsylvania Line during the American Revolution as follows:

(1) In the 3rd. Pennsylvania Regiment.

(2) In Capt. James Ross' Company in Col. Thos. Porter's Regiment.

(3) In Capt. Christopher Stuart's Company, 5th Penn. Battery.

HISTORICAL NOTES ON DUBOIS COUNTY

(4) In Lieut. William Anderson's Company.

(5) In Montgomery's Pennsylvania Battery.

(6) In Col. James Taylor's Regiment.

(7) In Col. James Taylor's Regiment, 2nd Time.

William Anderson, of Dubois County, was a son of Gilbert Anderson, of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. He was born in Pennsylvania and after the American Revolution moved to Mercer County, Kentucky. In 1781, there lived in Coleraine Township, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, Gilbert Anderson and his son, William Anderson. In that township Capt. Robert Miller's Fourth Company (Sixth Battalion) was recruited in August, 1781, and William Anderson's name appears as a private.

Since Capt. Miller's Company of Col. James Taylor's Regiment was recruited in Anderson's home township, a township having both Gilbert Anderson and William Anderson as citizens, it is presumed that this William Anderson is our subject. If this assumption was to company and regiment is correct, and there appears nothing whatever to the contrary, the balance of the record is free and clear. William Anderson was seventeen when he enlisted in the summer of 1781. The tradition handed down is that the wheat had been cut but not flailed, and that roasting ears and summer apples were on hand. When Silliam Anderson was mustered out he walked all the way back to his home in Lancaster County, carrying his musket. Soldiers were allowed their muskets in order to kill game on their way home.

In reply to an inquiry, Jessica C. Ferguson, genealogist and research librarian, division of archives, "Pennsylvania State Library and Museum" under date of March 28, 1928, wrote and among other things said:

> "William Anderson, the supposed son of Gilbert Anderson, served in the company of Captain Robert Miller, Fourth Company, Sixth Battalion, August 1781, Lancaster County Militia. This Company was recruited in Coleraine Township, Lancaster County. Gilbert Anderson is said to have died in Lancaster County, but his son to have removed to Kentucky or Tennessee."

* Gilbert Anderson was living in January of 1814. We do not know when he died. He deeded several hundred acres of land in January of 1814. Like many members of the Church, his sympathy had been with England, so his son William Sr., wasn't given any of his land.

JANE BELL ANDERSON, SR.
BORN MARCH 29, 1771.
DIED APRIL 18, 1844.
AGED 73 YRS. AND 20 DAS.

The Revolutionary War hero, William Anderson, Sr., was the grandfather of Miss Elizabeth A. Anderson who was born July 13, 1837 and who was living in 1928, at Ireland. From her, and from Miss Lucinda Anderson, through her nephew Forrest R. Anderson, much of all this data was obtained.

In the Census of 1820, William Anderson, Sr., appears in Bainbridge Township as the head of a family consisting of two young men over 16 and under 26; one man over 26 and under 45; one man over 45; two girls between 10 and 16; one between 16 and 26 and one woman over 45. Four in the family were engaged in farming. There were two in the family of Thomas Anderson; a man between 26 and 45 and a woman between 16 and 26. These were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson. There were no children listed and he was entered as a farmer.

In the Census of 1830, in the family of William Anderson, Sr., he appears as over 60 and under 70. In his family was one woman over 20 and under 30 and one over 60 and under 70. Thomas Anderson, Sr., does not appear in the census of 1830. He had passed on.

Miss Lucinda Anderson, of Ireland, was the youngest daughter of William Anderson, Sr. Thomas Anderson, Sr. of the War of 1812 was his son. Lucinda Anderson died at Ireland in 1898, at the age of 90 "her mind being vigorous to the last minutes." From Lucinda Anderson came the information that her father was a soldier of the American Revolution and that her brother was a soldier of the War of 1812. Unfortunately local war papers were lost in a fire which destroyed Grandmother Anderson's residence, May 23, 1877. This loss caused an extensive historical research on the part of the writer.

In 1928, "the Revolutionary War and War of 1812 section" of the Bureau of Pensions of the Department of the Interior, at Washington, D. C. wrote that a careful search of the records failed to show a pension claim or a bounty land claim had ever been filed on account of the services of William Anderson, Sr., or of Thomas Anderson, Sr.

Mercer County, Kentucky dates from 1785. It used to be a part of Lincoln County, which dates from 1780. It does not appear that Gilbert or Wm. Anderson, Sr., of Pennsylvania had any land grants in Mercer County, Kentucky. It seems the Virginia soldiers got these "Virginia Grants" therefore it appears that if the Andersons owned land in Kentucky they bought it from a previous individual owner. There seems no reason why soldiers from Pennsylvania should obtain land grants in Kentucky in the days of Gilbert and William Anderson, Sr.

On January 20, 1820, the Secretary of War made a report to Congress showing the names of those drawing a pension in pursuance of the Act of March 18, 1818; therefore, it would include those pensioned up to January 20, 1820, after the law had been in force for 21 months. The name of William Anderson does not appear under the Indiana list - it was not a very long list. It seems thoroughly established that William Anderson, Sr., never asked for a pension, neither did his son Thomas Anderson, Sr., of the War of 1812.

It seems that Wm. Anderson, Sr., never filed a claim for a pension, or for bounty land while in Dubois County. He owned land in Mercer County, Kentucky, but whether it was military land or not is not known here. The records at Washington, D. C. do not show any Dubois County claims from Andersons for pension or land. That fact has been thoroughly investigated. With all that, William Anderson, Sr., was a true and brave American soldier of the Revolutionary War, as his descendants claim and firmly believe. No one has any reason to doubt their belief. They are intelligent, upright, honest, honorable and patriotic - all mellowed with becoming modesty and dignified refinement.

In the Pennsylvania Archives, 5th Series, Vol. 7 page 585 Indiana State Library, William Anderson appears as a soldier of the American Revolution. He was in the 2nd Class in class roll of the 4th Company of the 6th Battalion of the Lancaster County Militia, commanded by Col. James Taylor.

By these two paragraphs we have our William Anderson in Captain Robert Miller's Company of Col. James Taylor's Regiment of the Pennsylvania line in the American Revolution.

The following letter needs no explanation. It is given here because it comes from official sources.

Mr. Geo. R. Wilson,
Indianapolis, Indiana

My dear Mr. Wilson:

The name of William Anderson appears in the Fourth Company, Sixth Battalion, Captain Robert Miller, Col. James Taylor 1780. It is impossible to determine the activities participated in by the various men in the company. A company is divided into classes and not all classes were called into service at the same time.

Unless you secure a copy of a pension record, you will not be able to discover the engagements in which Wm. Anderson participated.

A History has not been compiled of the activities of various companies of Pennsylvania Militia. When a name appears upon a muster roll it is assumed by all Patriotic Societies that the men saw service in some capacity.

Hoping the above information will be of service to you, I remain

Very sincerely,

William and Thomas Anderson, both seniors, entered by purchase, 160 acres near their final resting place, Nov. 6, 1815, and lived near there until their death. It is the N. E. ¼ Section 25, T 1 S, R 6 W and that neighborhood is the second oldest settlement in Dubois County. This was Gibson County when they bought. Here began the "Irish Settlement". A photostat of the government patent may be seen at the end of this article.

About 1825, John Anderson and Eli Thomas of this Anderson family founded the mill often spoken of as the "Payne" or "Kestner Mill," on Patoka, northeast of Duff, and hereinafter mentioned. The mill was built before Thomas Payne owned it and before Christian Kestner saw the light of day in far away Germany.

Space will not permit a complete list of all the descendents of Wm. Anderson, Sr., and his wife. What is given hereinafter may enable others to carry out the family tree.

The children of William Anderson, Sr. were William Jr., Thomas (of the War of 1812), Andrew, James and John, also Matilda (who died young), Jane, Melissa and Lucinda. The numbers are in the order of birth.

Child No. 1 - William Anderson, Jr. William Anderson, Jr., married Elizabeth Harris, of Welsh descent and also of Kentucky. They reached Dubois County about 1816 and settled on a 160 acre farm. William Anderson died June 16, 1843; Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Anderson, the widow, died February 18, 1877. She was born May 17, 1800. A partial list of the descendants of this couple follows: Alexander, Isaac, John H., Elizabeth (DeMotte), Ellen (Curry), and Melissa (DeMotte). The son, John H. was born in Madison Township, May 28, 1832.

William Anderson, Jr. and his brother Andrew came to Dubois County, in the fall of 1814, and built a log cabin. The chimney was so large they did not take out the ashes until the next spring and when they did the ashes filled a large ash hopper.

The census of 1830 shows Wm. Sr., Wm. Jr., John and Mrs. Mary Anderson, a widow, were "Heads of families in Bainbridge Township," which then covered the "Irish Settlement."

Child No. II - Thomas Anderson, Sr., - Thomas Anderson, Sr., was a private in Capt. Simon R. Baker's

Company in Col. Robert Pougue's Regiment, Kentucky Volunteers, and followed the fortunes of war from August 27, 1812, through that company.

Lieut-Colonel Gabriel Slaughter, later the 11th governor of Kentucky, commanded a Kentucky regiment at the battle of New Orleans, Sunday, January 8, 1815. It was a detached Kentucky militia regiment, War of 1812, in Federal service. In Captain John Farmer's Company appears the name of Thomas Anderson, as a private. It is the second name on the roll. The name John Anderson follows. In the same regiment, in Captain Wm. Wood's Company appears the name Thomas Anderson as a private. It is the second name on the roll. The name Garland Anderson comes first, but the name John Anderson does not appear. In the same regiment, in Captain Wm. Philip's Company, the name Thomas Anderson heads the muster roll of privates. No other Anderson appears on the roll.

Lieut.-Colonel Presley Gray's Regiment of Detached Kentucky Militia, War of 1812, in Federal service was also in the battle of New Orleans, Sunday, January 8, 1815. In the company commanded by Captain Joseph Funk the name Thomas Anderson heads the list of privates. There is no other Anderson in the Company.

The following Anderson, all from Kentucky, were in the battle of New Orleans - Sergeant Robert T. Anderson, Evan Anderson, James Anderson, John Anderson, Jr., Corporal Anderson, Garland Anderson, Thomas Anderson, again, Thomas Anderson, again, Thomas Anderson, again, Josiah Anderson and Athel Anderson.

The above information is taken from "The Battle of New Orleans," Filson Club Publication No. 19, by Zackary F. Smith, published in 1904. The book gives as far as known, the names of all the Kentuckians who took part in that battle. The name Thomas Anderson appears four times, namely on pages 191, 192, 195 and 198, each time as an enrolled private soldier. It is regretted that the published muster rolls do not give the residences of the soldiers.

The above, associated with the family knowledge and tradition is our authority for classing Thomas Anderson, Sr., as a soldier of the War of 1812. He was a private in one of five companies and in one of three regiments. Which company and which regiment, the descendants, at this time, seem unable to determine, except that of his initial enlistment.

On March 22, 1928, the writer addressed a letter to the Adjutant General's office of Kentucky asking for a record of the service of Thomas Anderson, of Mercer County, Kentucky, who was in the battle of New Orleans. Evidently in this initial enlistment Thomas Anderson went from the state militia services into the Federal service for the militia enlistment of one month ran from August 27, 1812 to September 26, 1812. It seems within all bounds of reason that Thomas Anderson of Mercer County, Kentucky, went out of the above enlistment into the enlistment that took him into the United States service that reached the great American climax at the battle of New Orleans. The "Certificate of Service" sent in reply to the letter of March 22, 1928 is shown on the following page.

Thomas Anderson, Sr., served on through the War of 1812, under subsequent enlistments. Histories printed seventy years after his death corroborate his description of the death of the English commander.

In describing that incident in the battle, Thomas Anderson, Sr., is reported to have said:

"I firmly believe that I stood side by side with the soldier that shot Gen. Pakenham. He was a dead shot and took very careful aim at Gen. Pakenham and at the crack of his rifle, the general threw up his arms and fell from his horse. Gen. Pakenham rode the finest looking white horse I ever saw."

He often related the incident and after his death his sister Lucinda Anderson often repeated it. It always has been a family tradition. "The Battle of New Orleans", A Filson Club Publication, No. 19 illustrated and published in 1904, and recognized as a good authority supports Anderson's description of the general's death.

The writer has been on every acre of the battlefield of New Orleans, at the spot where Gen. Pakenham fell, at the old plantation brick house used by him as his headquarters where he died and was mourned by his fellow officers. The entire battlefield is a level plain, filled in by the Mississippi River and lies along the river's brink. On a white horse, Gen. Pakenham could easily have been seen when within rifle shot. A tall, massive and impressive national monument stands on the field of Jackson's victory. Nearby are markers showing the lines of Jackson's defenses as commanded by his field officers and the Mississippi River rolls majestically by on its way to the Gulf a hundred miles distant. American industries now surround the battlefield.

* The name of the soldier who shot General Pakenham was Walker, a Kentuckian.
He had his own rifle, it had the longest barrel of any in the whole Army.
2200 British killed, at a loss of only 22 Americans killed and wounded.

HISTORICAL NOTES ON DUBOIS COUNTY

A partial list of the descendants of Thomas Anderson, Sr. follows: John, Prince, Jesse, and Thomas, Jr. Thomas Anderson, Sr., the soldier of the War of 1812, died in November, 1829 in Dubois County. His will was executed in October 30, 1829, and recorded Nov. 30, 1829. It was witnessed by Asbury Alexander and Lucinda Anderson. His brother, John Anderson, was executor. Thomas Anderson, Sr., died of "quick consumption" brought on in the early part of 1829, while working in a sugar camp. He was born in Mercer County, Kentucky, date not known by the family, but Andrew Anderson a next younger was born February 5, 1796, so it may not be wrong to say Thomas Anderson was born about 1793. Mary Lindsey became his wife about 1820. She died about 1871. Neither Thomas Anderson, Sr., nor his widow ever drew a pension. They had four sons but no daughters. Thomas Anderson, Jr., a pioneer tanner of Boone Township died January 2, 1889. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and he sleeps at Shiloh. He was the youngest son of Thomas Anderson, Sr., of the War of 1812. William Perry Anderson (living in 1928) is a son of Thomas Anderson, Jr., a grandson of Thomas Anderson, Sr., and a great grandson of William Anderson, Sr., a hero of the American Revolution.

Shiloh Lodge I.O.O.F. No. 486 was organized May 15, 1875. Martin L., Wm. R., Thomas, Jr., and Andrew M. Anderson were members. It was a favorite fraternity among the Andersons.

On August 29, 1820, Jesse Lindsey entered eighty acres, a half mile south of Mt. Zion and here Thomas Anderson, Sr. found his wife.

Tradition has it that Lieut-Col. Thomas Anderson, Sr., of the Indiana Militia drilled his soldiers in a lane near his home in Madison Township, for fear of "another war with England." Mrs. Mary Lindsey Anderson never applied for a pension; she thought she was not entitled to one because she married Anderson after the War of 1812.

Thomas Anderson's grave is the first long grave in the "Anderson Row" in Hillsboro Cemetery. It is unmarked. The grave can easily be located. There is just one small grave between his grave and that of Wm. Anderson, Sr. His history (as given by Forrest Anderson, a member of the same family who was twenty years old when Lucinda Anderson died and who often heard her relate it) is as follows: Thomas Anderson, Sr., went from Mercer County, Kentucky to the call of the colors in the War of 1812. He was in the battle of New Orleans and saw Sir Edward Pakenham fall from his large white horse, on the field of Chalmette. After the battle of which was fought on Sunday, January 8, 1815, after peace had been declared, Thomas Anderson, Sr., returned to Kentucky only to find that his people had moved to Dubois County, Indiana. He came to Dubois County and first found his sister Lucinda. He caught her and hugged her time and again before he could speak. Later Thomas Anderson, Sr., was an officer in the Indiana Militia and wore white trousers, a blue coat, with sword, belt, scabbard and epaulettes. His widow, Mrs. Mary Lindsey Anderson sold his uniform to Samuel Postlethwait, Sr., of Ireland, Indiana.

On December 15, 1822, Thomas Anderson was commissioned a Lieut-Col. in the Indiana State Militia that protected Southern Indiana at that time. A militia regiment No. 32 contained soldiers of Dubois and Pike Counties. This was in 1820. In this regiment Thomas Anderson became Lieut-Colonel, December 15, 1822, Archibald Edmonston, a captain, June 15, 1925, and Samuel Postlethwait, Sr., a captain, June 22, 1823. Archibald Edmonston was also in the 43rd Reg. Indiana Militia.

Child No. III - Andrew Anderson. A partial list of the descendants of Andrew Anderson follows:

Andrew Anderson born February 5, 1796, died June 7, 1869, was commissioned a Lieutenant in the Indiana State Militia, June 20, 1823. His first wife was Mary Banta Anderson. He came to Dubois County from Mercer County, Kentucky, November, 1814. A son, Wm. T. Anderson was born December 13, 1833. Mary Anderson was born May 18, 1804, and died in 1846. It appears that Andrew Anderson's children were William Thomas, David, Lucinda (McLaughlin), Lana (Proudfoot), George unmarried and Salina (Nelson). (Mrs. Salina Nelson, a grand-daughter of Wm. Anderson, Sr., was living in 1928). Andrew's second wife was Mrs. Obedience Mosby Williams, daughter of Edward and Sarah J. Mosby. Edward Mosby was a soldier in the War of 1812. Mr. and Mrs. Mosby are buried at Shiloh. Obedience Anderson died Oct. 12, 1876, aged 68 years, 9 mos. and 11 days.

Child No. IV - James Anderson. James Anderson married Isabella Mosby, a native of Kentucky. He died April 15, 1879 and his wife died September 24, 1869. Mr. Anderson was a pioneer blacksmith having learned his trade in Kentucky. Mrs. Anderson was a daughter of Edward Mosby, a soldier of the War of 1812. A partial list of the descendants of James Anderson follows: Barton W., Martin L. (born December 15, 1830) Angeline Lett, William Anderson (died young), Lucy Finch, Isabel (Hart), Ariel (Brown), Achsah Case, (Mrs. John).

James Anderson was one of the founders of Mt. Zion New School Presbyterian Church. He and his son-in-law, Perry Brown, were the founders of the mill at Otwell, Indiana. Perry Brown was the founder of Otwell.

Child No. V - John Anderson. A partial list of the descendants of John Anderson who was born October 6, 1799 hereinafter follows:

John Anderson, the miller, married Elizabeth Armstrong who was born Sept. 2, 1806, in Woodford County, Ky. Rev. Hiram A. Hunter performed the marriage ceremony. She died August 15, 1885. A son Andrew Madison Anderson was born Feb. 16, 1852. John Anderson died March 13, 1860. Six of the children died young. Those who grew up were Mrs. Jane E. A. Burgh (died April 22, 1904), Elizabeth A. (living in 1928), Isaac Newton (died March 14, 1926), and Andrew Madison (living in 1928). Be it remembered that, in 1928, Elizabeth A. Anderson, Mrs. Selina Nelson and Andrew M. Anderson grandchildren of Wm. Anderson, Sr., were living. John Anderson and his wife lived near what is now known as the Payne or Kestner Mill for two or three years. He was one of its founders.

Pioneer Wm. Anderson, Sr. spent his last days from December, 1835 until his death, April 22, 1836, at the home of his son, John Anderson. On Oct. 3, 1817, John Anderson entered the W ½ S W ¼ Section 30 T 1 S, R 5 W, east of Mt. Zion; on August 11, 1820, he entered the E ½ S W Section 27, T 1 S, R 6 W, and on June 27, 1829, he entered 160 acres in Section 17, T 1 S, R 5 W, northease of Ireland. It was the W ½ N. E. ¼ and the E ½ N. W. ¼ of said section about one mile from the town of Ireland.

Child No. VI - Miss Jane Anderson. Jane Anderson married Eli Thomas, the miller. A partial list of the descendants of Jane Anderson, if any, could not be obtained. These people moved to Vermillion County, Indiana, where Eli Thomas died. Mrs. Thomas then married a man by the name of Peters, perhaps William Peters. They rest at Camargo, Douglas County, Illinois, about thirty-six miles west of Dana, Vermillion County, Indiana. There seems to have been no children by either marriage. It is thought Eli Thomas reached Dubois County as early as 1818. On June 2, 1818, he made the first land entry in Patoka Township. It was the quarter section just south of Fairmount Cemetery. Eli Thomas was commissioned a justice of the peace July 8, 1819, and a captain in the 32nd Reg. Indiana Militia, July 14, 1824.

On September 29, 1825, John Anderson and Eli Thomas entered the W ½ S E ¼ Section 7, T 2 S, R 5 W, where the Payne Mill stood. They established or founded that mill. The men were brothers-in-law.

Child No. VII - Miss Melissa Anderson. Melissa Anderson was born in Mercer County, Kentucky, July 29, 1805. She became the wife of Archibald Edmonston, a soldier of the War of 1812, and a brother of Col. B. B. Edmonston and Senator Benjamin Rose Edmonston. In May, 1888, she received a pension. She died at Dana, Vermillion County, Indiana, Feb. 8, 1895, aged about ninety. On June 15, 1825, Archibald Edmonston was commissioned a captain in the 32nd Reg. Ind. Militia. He was also commissioned a captain in the 43rd Reg. Ind. Militia, August 24, 1830. When the Edmonston family was about to leave North Carolina for Indiana, Archibald was sent on ahead to "spy out the land" along the old Buffalo Trail.

This couple was married March 2, 1826. They moved to Coleman's Prairie, Vermillion County, Indiana, in 1831. They were married by Justice Ashbury Alexander who lived on the Frank Hobbs or Sweeney farm. The witnesses were Col. B. B. Edmonston, his brother and Miss Lucinda Anderson, her sister. Archibald Edmonston died December 15, 1865. The graves of this couple are in the Thomas Cemetery, near Newport, Vermillion County, Indiana. Could Eli Thomas be connected with this cemetery? Sallie, their first child died near the Mudholes, in Boone Township and was buried in the Hillsboro Cemetery by the side of Thomas Anderson, Sr., of the War of 1812.

Child No. IX - Miss Lucinda Anderson. Miss Lucinda Anderson (unmarried) was Wm. Anderson Sr's youngest daughter. She was born Nov. 2nd, 1808 and died Nov. 9th, 1898, aged 90 years and seven days, at Ireland. Her grave is at Shiloh. The writer remembers her distinctly. He knew her when she was about 80 years of age. Miss Lucinda Anderson lived with her brother, John, from December, 1835 to John's death March 13, 1860, and with her direct niece Elizabeth A. Anderson, as did Forrest Anderson, a great grandson of Wm. Anderson, Sr. Mrs. Laura Anderson Harrison is a daughter of John H. Anderson, Jr., grand-daughter of Wm. Anderson, Jr. and great grand-daughter of Wm. Anderson, Sr.

Miss Elizabeth Armstrong Anderson, a daughter of John Anderson, Sr., and Elizabeth Armstrong, his wife, was born July 13, 1837, and was living at Ireland in February, 1928. This lady is a grand-daughter of William Anderson, Sr., through his son John Anderson, Sr.

What is now known as the Payne Mill, or Kestner's Mill, northeast of Duff on Patoka River, was founded by John Anderson, Sr., and Eli Thomas in the early twenties of the last century. John Anderson was a son of William Anderson, Sr. of Mercer County, Kentucky, and Eli Thomas was the husband of Miss Jane Anderson, a daughter of Wm. Anderson, Sr. This mill stood below what is now known as Kestner's bridge. At that early day the mill site was part of Patoka Township. The writer saw the remains of the mill and dam many times when he was a boy. A few of the mud sills are yet in the river. "Aunt Bettie" Anderson (living in 1928) says that about 1825 her father, John Anderson, Sr., and her mother lived near the old mill site and their first child was born there. She says her parents had no door to their cabin; they just hung up a quilt for a door. Often wolves and other wild animals would come and howl or bark around the cabin at night and one night the wolves killed their only cow. Her mother often told of fishing at the mill. In coming to the "Irish Settlement" to visit relatives they crossed Patoka at the Armstrong ford. A picture of the site of the Payne Mill is shown on page 151, "Wilson's History of Dubois County."

Jacob Fry, the father of Henry Fry (the latter born 12-6-1799) probably came to Kentucky from Pennsylvania. Here he raised his family and here he died 11-10-1847. Henry Fry, his son was born in Nelson Co., Kentucky. It is likely that soon after his first marriage which occurred in 1824, he followed his sister Margaret Weller and other relatives coming by ox team to the Ohio river and floating down that stream by flat boat landing on the Indiana shore at the mouth of Anderson creek in Spencer county. Not remaining here many years he again moved to Vermillion Co. Indiana some time in the Thirties. He next moved to Douglas Co. (then Coles) in 1851 and resided in a log house on what is now called the Jones farm just South-East of the Douglas county farm. In a few years he purchased Eighty acres one and a half miles south of the County Farm where he raised his family and where he died 6-5-1880. His last wife survived him eight years. They are both buried in the Broaddus cemetery. Their son Jacob died in the Civil war and was buried in a National cemetery. Henry Fry gave four sons to the Northern army, viz. David, Jacob, Daniel, and Harry.

THE FORMAN FAMILY

The undersigned being now in his seventy-ninth year and from his associations with many of the Forman family and others, with whom he has conversed, extending as far back as sixty or sixty-five years, from family records, from public official records, from inscriptions on headstones, on tombstones, from historical records made soon after the events recorded took place, became possessed of many important historical facts and reminiscences in connection with the history of said family, which he has thought ought not to be lost. He is satisfied that the following short treatise he hereby submits, is substantially correct. He does not insist that he has been able to go into a full and comprehensive history of the family, as it would involve more labor and energy, than at his age, he could bring to the work. He has satisfied himself with giving an outline of our ancestors and their descendants so far as they have come to his knowledge, whereby persons of the name or blood, may trace to a certain extent, at least, the relationship that exists between them, down to the sixth generation from the common ancestor who settled in Monmouth county, New Jersey.

WM. P. FORMAN.

Manalapan, Monmouth Co., N.J., December, 1885.

CHAPTER I.

About the year 1685 there lived a man by the name of JOHN FOREMAN, the letter (e) seems to have been omitted, and his descendants have since been called FORMAN. It is thought by some that his ancestors migrated from Wales or England, first having settled in Massachusetts, thence removed to Gravesend, on Long Island, and from thence to Monmouth county, N.J., about the year in question. Others infer from Wardrow's History of Scotland, Vol. 4, pages 221 and 331, that in the year 1685, the persecution of the adherents of the Church of Scotland, (Presbyterian) called Covenanters, arose to such a height that many were compelled to seek new homes, and that among them was one JOHN FOREMAN, who settled in New Hersey, about one and one-half miles southeasterly from Monmouth Court House. The neighborhood was long known as the "Forman neighborhood," by the public roads that surrounded it. It has often since been called "Forman square." All seem to agree as to the time and place of settlement. The writer leans to the opinion that the latter version is the most reliable. At all events he became the common ancestor of many of the leading spirits that have since mingled not only with the people of this country but elsewhere. It has been claimed that the name of this common ancestor was not John. Upon due consideration of the matter, however, according to the best information the writer can obtain, he inclines to the opinion that such was his name. He is indebted to REV. G. C. SCHENCK, MRS. JOHN C. FORMAN, MISS MARY ANN FORMAN and others, for much valuable information in making up this record.

The said JOHN FORMAN had born to him as follows, so far as we have been able to learn.
Samuel, born September, 1686.
Jonathan, born September, 1688; (married Margaret Wyckoff;) died December, 1762.
Hannah, born December, 1690; (married William Murdock;) died January, 1775.
Aaron, born December, 1693.
Ezekiel, born September, 1695; died October, 1746.
Mary, born September, 1697.
Rebecca, born September, 1699.
Capt. John, born September, 1701; died November, 1748; (he was a blacksmith in Freehold.)
Joseph, born 1704; died July, 1775.

Some thirty years since, I was riding by what is known as the Scotch burial ground. I am informed that a church once stood there that was the nucleus from which what is called the Tennent church was formed. It is the township of Marlboro. I observed a prominent headstone to which my attention was more particularly drawn. I found it had been erected to the memory of JONATHAN FORMAN, Esq., who died December, 1762, aged 74 years. I was unable at that time to determine whether he was a descendant of the pioneer John or not, and remained in ignorance upon that subject until recently when I undertook to look up as many reminiscenses of the Forman family as I could find. He appeared to have been the second son of John, senior, born 1688.

Jonathan's children by his wife, Margaret Wyckoff, as far as known, were:
Nelly, born December, 1712; (married May 13, 1733, to Abraham Van Dorn.)
Samuel, born 1714; (married Helena Denise;) died 1793.
Peter, born May, 1718; (married Eleanor Williamson, 1742;) died November, 1785.
Jonathan, born November, 1721.
David, born 1733.
Mary, (married Robert Rhea.)
David, (married Anna Denise;) born 1736; died 1798.

Inasmuch as there has been much speculation as to the parentage of GEN. DAVID FORMAN, of military fame, and his connection in the Forman family, from the fact that he appears to have left no children to give the information; in my researches I have satisfied myself that he was a son of JOSEPH FORMAN, who was the sixth son of the Patriarch, John the 1st.

CHAPTER II.

Of the issue of Samuel Forman, the 1st, son of the Patriarch, John 1st, born A. D. 1686, so far as I am informed, were: John I. Forman, born 1731, died 1811; married Helena Denise, born 1734, died 1796. He was a practical surveyor and one of the county judges. His official signature may be found attached to many records in the Monmouth County offices.

Col. Samuel Forman, (do not know the date of birth,) died about 1814; with his two wives was interred in the vault beneath St. Peter's Church in Freehold. He was distinguished in the Revolution, as by reference to the military correspondence of New Jersey fully appears. He lived at that time on the Kildare farm, in upper Freehold, (now Millstone) township, and from the large amount of timber, not fit for other purposes, manufactured large quantities of potash. He left no children.

Issue of John I. Forman, above named, (a grandson of John 1st,) by his wife Eleanor Denise:
John Forman, (I do not know the date of his birth,) removed to Tuckerton, N.J., at an early age.
Denise I. Forman, born 1768, died 1819; married Elizabeth Laird, born 1780.
Samuel Forman, at Squan, married Polly Conover. Was the father of Ex-Judge John S. Forman, deceased. The issue of said Judge are the 5th generation from John 1st.
Jane Forman, who married Thomas Thompson, formerly of the Stone House farm, about one mile from Smithburg.

Issue of Denise I. Forman:
John D. Forman, born 1802.
Eleanor, born 1803.
Alice, married John Conover Forman, son of Tunis, born 1805. She has afforded much useful information.
Emeline, married Rev. Mr. Whalen, born 1809.
Anna E., born 1813.
Wm. D., born 1817.

Issue of John D. Forman:
Anna M., married Steward Brown, who is since deceased.
John Forman, and Wm. H. Forman, a lawyer in Freehold.

Issue of Samuel, first son of Esquire Jonathan and grandson of John 1st, who married Helena Denise, April 17, 1759:

Denise Forman; (do not know date of birth;) married Euphemia Kearney, of Key Grove (now Keyport,) on the 5th day of February, 1782.

Eleanor Forman, married Capt. Philip Freneau, poet and editor, who took an active part during and after the Revolution; dubbed by general consent "The Poet of the Revolution."

Katy Forman, married Benjamin Ledyard, a merchant of New York City; died A. D. 1775.

Col. Jonathan Forman, a colonel in the Revolution; also commanded the New Jersey regiment to put down the whiskey insurrection in Pennsylvania. He married Mary Ledyard, of New London, Conn. He had a daughter who was the mother of Gov. Seymour, and John F. Seymour, of New York. She may have had other children not known to the writer.

Margaret Forman, married John Burroughs, a merchant of Middletown Point.

Maj. Samuel S. Forman, married Sarah McCarty, of New London, Conn. At an early day he moved to the State of New York and became one of the founders of the present city of Syracuse, became wealthy and influential; died at great age. From his writings when very old (but of sound intellect) much useful help was furnished.

CHAPTER III.

Having given some account of the children of Esquire Jonathan Forman, the second son of John 1st, and of the issue of his eldest son Samuel, I now proceed to trace the issue of his second son, Peter, born A.D. 1718, died 1785. His wife, Margaret Williamson, he married A. D. 1742. He was a justice of the peace at the time of the Revolution. I have in my possession his commission, signed by Gov. Livingston.

William Forman, their son, was born 1751; died 1823. His wife, Fransinchy Hendrickson, born 1759; died 1815. She was a daughter of Garret Hendrickson, of Middletown; her mother was Catharine Denise, a daughter of Tunis Denise.

Jonathan Forman lived at the time of his death on the farm occupied now by Joseph Ely, of Manalapan. He was accidentally killed when a young married man. Driving a spirited team, walking by the side of a loaded wagon, his feet became entangled in the lines by which he was thrown under the wheels and instantly killed; he left no issue.

Samuel P. Forman, the youngest son, was a very popular man and was high sheriff of this county several times, and died at Allentown in the prime of his life. He left a son, Peter Forman, who became high sheriff of Hunterdon county; a son Michael, who held an office in the county, and was a good business man, and several daughters, whose names I cannot place, one of whom married John Lawrence Hendrickson, of Allentown.

Peter Forman's daughter, Anna, married Michael Sweetman, who resided on the farm bounded by Sweetman's Lane road.

Jane, married Henderson Sweetman, a brother, whose farm adjoined that of his brother Michael, and the same which was afterward owned by the Davisons. That neighborhood took its name from those two men.

Mary, married Col. Elisha Walton, an officer in the Revolution, former owner of the mills of Chas. H. Snyder, Esq., (called Black's Mills.) After the war he represented this county for a number of years in the legislative council, and was three times high sheriff of the county. He had two sons, Peter and Thomas, and several daughters. One of them became the wife of John I. Thompson, (called Boss Thompson.) One married William Rogers, the old court cryer so long and fevorably known. There were others whose names

I do not know. Ex-sheriff Joseph I. Thompson was a grandson, and was of the 5th generation from John Forman 1st, and his son, the present sheriff of this county, of the 6th generation.

Eleanor, married William Conover, the grandfather of Capt. James W. Conover, the patriot and soldier who laid down his life in his efforts to sustain the integrity of his country in the late rebellion. He was the 6th generation from the said John Forman 1st. Edward M. Conover, the vendue master, was one of the 5th generation from said John 1st.

Lydia, married Garret B. Conover, who formerly owned the David Buck farm. She had a number of children, who all belong to the 4th generation from John Forman 1st.

Helena, married Tunis Vanderveer; died young, having no children; his second wife was a daughter of Dominie DuBois, then pastor of the Dutch church, near Marlboro, of which the Rev. Mr. Wells is now pastor.

Of the issue of Wm. Forman, first son of Peter: Garrett died in 1826, about forty-six years old; married Anna Karr, a daughter of Ebenezer Karr. Their children were Fransinchy, Ebenezer, Esther, William, Jonathan, Lydia Ann, Phebe, Elizabeth and Catharine. They removed West.

Peter, born 1781, died 1838; married Rebecca Ely, daughter of Isaac Ely; she died 1817. His second wife was Phebe Ely, daughter of Allison Ely; died 1848. His children were Wm. P., Sarah Ely and Isaac Ely Forman, all by the first wife.

Catharine died single, A. D. 1873, aged eighty-three years.

Eleanor, married Lewis Ford Hankinson; had several children, all living in the western country. His sister, Eliza D. Hankinson, was the mother of Ex-Gov. Newell; her father, James Hankinson, owned the farm now of Mrs. Robert K. Wilson. He was a son of Capt. Kenneth Hankinson, a captain in the Revolution.

Jonathan never married; died in the western country aged about seventy-four years.

Samuel W., married Mary, a daughter of Jonathan Clayton, who owned what is known as the David Reid farm; he had a second wife, a native of the west. Some of his children have died; all that I know are the Misses Mary and Margaret Forman, doing business in Warren, Ohio; they have a brother, Jonathan Claytan, all by the first wife; he died a few years since aged about eighty-one years.

CHAPTER IV.

Of the issue of Wm. P. Forman, the writer of this article, and Evelina Baird, his wife, he being of the 5th generation from John 1st.

Born A. D. 1807, his wife was a daughter of Capt. David Baird, an officer of the Revolution, and was born A. D. 1805; died November, 1883. We were married March 12th, 1828; consequently were in our fifty-sixth year of married life.

I served as a representative of Monmouth county in the Legislature for the years 1838 and 1839, having been elected on general ticket which was then constitutional, Benjamin Oliphant for council, and Thomas E. Combs, James Craig and Capt. Garret Hires for Assembly. Was a judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Monmouth county from 1843 to 1848 under the old constitution, and from 1852 till 1867 under the new, making in all twenty years, and have served in various other offices, civil and ecclesiastical, not herein named. I have two daughters, to wit: Fransinchy Rebecca, who married James Cook Rue, and Mary Elizabeth, who married John Van Mater, of Colts Neck, and one son, Peter Forman, who now represents the first legislative district of the county of Monmouth in the General Assembly. He married Maggie L. Van Doren, March 6th, 1884. My children are of the 6th generation from John 1st.

My only sister, Sarah Ely Perrine, married Wm. I. Perrine, long since deceased, by whom she had six children, Peter Forman Perrine, Catharine E. Dey, recently deceased, Joseph W. Perrine, Stephen J. Perrine, Francis Rosteen Perrine and Sarah E. Allen, wife of Jasper H. Allen, of Dutch Neck. These are also of the 6th generation.

Isaac Ely Forman, forn May 4th, 1812, married Elizabeth Ann Ely, a daughter of Richard Ely; they removed west and had one child, William E.; they have all been deceased many years. William's wife was Lavina Edwards, of Eatontown, still living and has married again.

Of the issue of Sheriff David Forman, the youngest son of the aforesaid Peter, and great-grandson of John 1st, and his wife, Anna Denise: He was born A. D. 1733; died 1812. She was born 1736; died 1798.

There seems to have been a strong affinity between the Formans and the Denises, inasmuch as three of the Formans married three sisters, all daughters of Tunis Denise. Samuel married Helena, John I. married Eleanor and David married Anna.

Their son Jonathan, was born 1758, died 1803.

Tunis was born 1761, died 1837. His wife's name was Eleanor Remson, died 1835.

Samuel, born 1764, died 1845. He was a popular physician, lived where the late John Fisher Forman lived and died, and had a very extensive practice for many years.

Of the issue of Jonathan Forman, a son of David:

John B. Forman died in 1853, aged sixty-six years. His wife was Hope, a daughter of Dr. Thomas Henderson, a man of high standing, being an eminent physician and a patriot of the Revolution. He lived on the farm recently owned by Charles Webster, near West Freehold, and is said to have been the builder of the dwelling thereon. She died in 1823, aged thirty-six years. David Forman, another son, a physician located at Middletown, died single, aged thirty-five years. A daughter, Catherine, married Enoch P. Rose, a merchant of Trenton. Eleanor married Rev. Joseph L. Shafer.

Of the issue of John B. Forman and Hope, his wife: He lived and died on the homestead of his father, in the Forman neighborhood.

Miss Mary Ann Forman lives in Jersey City, with her sister, Mrs. Judge Bennington F. Randolph. I have already referred to her as affording much useful information. Since deceased.

Their son, Jonathan Forman, after his father's decease, lived for some time in Freehold, married and removed. Since then I have lost the run of his history.

I do not recollect the name of the daughter who married Judge Randolph. Gov. Bedle married a daughter of Judge and Mrs. Randolph. It will be seen that all descendants beyond the issue of John B. Forman and wife are of the 6th generation from John 1st.

CHAPTER V.

OF Tunis Forman and his issue by his wife, Eleanor Remson, second son of Sheriff David Forman a great-grandson of John 1st.

The following incident in regard to him appears in Barbour's Historical Collections of New Jersey, page 345, which I have thought would be interesting to many who have not known or heard of it before:

"On a fine morning in May, 1780, as the family of Mr. David Forman, sheriff of the county, were at breakfast, a soldier almost out of breath suddenly burst into the room and stated that he and another soldier were conducting to the court house two men taken up on suspicion at Colts Neck; they had knocked down his comrade, seized his musket and escaped. The sheriff, on hearing this relation, immediately mounted his horse and galloped to the court house to alarm the guard. His son Tunis, a lad of about seventeen, and small of age, seized a musket loaded only with small shot to kill blackbirds in the corn-fields, and putting on a cartridge box, dispatched his brother Samuel upstairs for the bayonet, and then without waiting for it, hurried off alone in the pursuit.

"After moving in a westerly direction about a mile he discovered the men sitting on a fence, who on perceiving him, ran into a swamp. As the morning was warm he hastily pulled off his coat and shoes and dashed in after them keeping close upon them for over a mile. When they got out of the swamp each climbed into separate trees. As he came up they discharged at him the musket taken from the guard. The ball whistled over his head, he felt for his bayonet, and at that moment perceived that in his haste it was left behind. He then pointed his gun at the man with the musket, but deemed it imprudent to fire, reflecting even if he killed him his comrade could easily master such a stripling as himself.

"He compelled the man to throw down the musket by threatening him with death if he did not instantly comply. Then loading the prize from his cartridge box, he forced his prisoners down the trees, and armed with his two loaded muskets he drove them toward the court house, careful, however, to keep them far apart to prevent conversation. Passing by a spring they requested permission to drink. 'No,' replied the intrepid boy understanding their design, 'you can do as well without it as myself; you shall have some bye and bye.'

"Soon after, his father at the head of a party of soldiers in pursuit, galloped past in the road within a short distance. Tunis halloed, but the clattering of their horses hoofs drowned his voice. At length he reached the village and lodged his prisoners in the county prison.

"It was subsequently learned that these men, whose names were John and Robert Smith, were brothers from near Philadelphia; that they had robbed and murdered a Mr. Boyd, a collector of taxes in Chester county, and when taken were on their way to join the British. As they had been apprehended on suspicion, merely, of being refugees, no definite charge could then be brought against them.

"A few days after Sheriff Forman saw an advertisement in a Pennsylvania paper describing them, with the facts above mentioned, and a reward of $20,000 (Continental money) offered for their apprehension. He, accompanied by his son, took them on there, where they were tried and executed. On entering Philadelphia, Tunis was carried through the streets in triumph upon the shoulders of the military. In the latter part of the war, this young man became very active, and was the peculiar favorite of Gen. David Forman.

"N.B. - This account was taken from the lips of Dr. Samuel Forman, who was then the boy Samuel who was sent upstairs for the bayonet, and was related by him when the transactions in question were fresh in his mind."

His son, John Conover Forman, born A.D. 1800, has been deceased only a short time. His widow, Alice, still survives and resides in Freehold. They had a son, Tunis Augustus, born 1829, died 1861; and a daughter, Mary Elizabeth, born 1833, died 1858. Tunis Augustus left a widow, Mrs. Maggie Forman, and a daughter, Lizzie Forman, who resides in Freehold.

His second son, Jonathan T., born 1804, lived on the homestead in the Forman neighborhood, had a son Edward T. Forman, born 1835, now or formerly living in Williamsburg; had a daughter, Theodocia P., and others that I cannot name.

His daughter, Catharine Louisa, born in 1809, married Dr. Edward Taylor, of Middletown, who is now dead. She is still living. They had several children, to wit: Dr. Edward F., who is now a popular practicing physician, having succeeded to his father's practic.

He was also Surgeon of the Third regiment, New Jersey militia, the first of the seventy-five thousand men ordered by President Lincoln at the outbreak of the Rebellion, and Surgeon of the First New Jersey regiment of volunteers to the late war. Wm. Remson Taylor, another son, was Lieutenant Colonel of the Twenty-ninth New Jersey volunteers, and on the resignation of Col. Applegate, was promoted to the colonelcy of the regiment. He is now a physician at Astoria, on Long Island. Tunis Forman Taylor resides at Colts Neck, New Jersey, and has held the office of collector or assessor of internal revenue in this district for many years, and is well known. Henry C., who is a practical farmer, lives on the homestead in Middletown. A daughter, Mary, who is single, and a daughter Sarah, who married James Hartshorne.

CHAPTER VI.

Of the issue of Dr. Samuel Forman, youngest son of Sheriff David Forman and Anna Denise, more particularly referred to in Chapter IV, great-great-grandson of John 1st, his first wife, Ann, died at the age of twenty-six years; his second wife, Sarah, died in 1837, aged seventy-two years. Their son David was a physician, never married, died in 1826, aged about thirty years.

John Fisher T. Forman, born 1801, died 1877, who lived on the homestead of his father, and his wife, Fransinchy V. Smock, a daughter of John Smock, died in 1877, and both are interred in the Tennent church burying ground, had the following sons and daughters: Sarah E., married J. H. Sinnickson, of Salem, N.J.; Ann, married U. Titus, died in 1863, interred at Titusville; Dr. Samuel R., a physician located at Jersey City; Margaretta, died in 1872; Richard, Henry and Maria, died in infancy. John Fisher, died in 1877, aged about thirty-seven years. Dr. D. McLean is a practicing physician in Freehold and vicinity; his practice extends over pretty nearly the same field as did the practice of his grandfather, Dr. Samuel. Uriah, died in infancy. Charles Dubois Forman is a farmer now living on the old homestead. All the family that have died except those named, were interred in the Freehold cemetery.

Richard T. Forman, a son of Dr. Samuel, lived in the Forman neighborhood, died in 1867, aged about fifty-nine years. His wife, Elizabeth, who is now dead, was a daughter of Peter Bilyeu, Esq., deceased, a man much respected. Their issue was Richard, now living on the homestead, and Sarah Ann, who married Charles Wickoff, of the same neighborhood.

Ann, a daughter of Dr. Samuel, married Hon. Joseph F. Randolph, a counselor at law, and since a member of Congress. They have long since deceased.

Anna, daughter of Sheriff David Forman, married Corlies Lloyd, a lawyer of Freehold, by whom she had several children whose history I am not able to follow.

Of the issue of Aaron Forman and Ursilla, his wife; he was the third son of John 1st, born 1693; had sons and daughters, George, Lewis, Andrew and Robert, and daughters, Priscilla, Lydia and Phebe. He left as executors of his will his two brothers,

Of the issue of Ezekiel Forman, fourth son of John 1st, born 1695; died 1746; wife, Elizabeth: Had sons and daughters, Samuel, Thomas (who removed to Kentucky at an early day and became influential and wealthy,) and Aaron, daughters, Mary, Hannah and Elizabeth. Executors in his will, his brother Jonathan, Esq., brother-in-law Daniel Schenck and Elisha Lawrence.

Further reminiscences of Gen. David Forman, who, as has already been stated, was a son of Joseph, the sixth son of John 1st; (he had a brother Ezekiel); he married Sarah Marsh, of the State of Maryland, by whom he had one daughter, (his only child) Sarah M. Forman. She married Maj. Wm. Gordon Forman a son of a relative of Gen. Forman, consequently her cousin. He was a highly educated gentleman and counselor at law. She died in 1799 aged twenty-six years. His second wife was Sarah M. Woodhull, only daughter of Rev. John Woodhull, D. D., the venerated pastor of the Tennent church for many years, who was greatly esteemed in his day. He was the immediate successor of Rev. William Tennent, of blessed memory. She died in Natchez in 1811, leaving one child, Sarah Marsh Forman, born 1808, died 1872. She married Rev. Clifford Smith Arms, by whom she had two sons who died in infancy. He died in the year 1863. Miss Anna M. Woodhull, a grand-daughter of Rev. John Woodhull, has rendered important aid in this part of my narrative. Gen. Forman was wealthy, being a large land owner; much of it was acquired after the war by his purchasing large quantities of land that had been confiscated from the refugees. At the time of the war he lived on and occupied what is known as the Brinkerhoof property, near Freehold.

The venerable Wm. Campbell, who served as a drummer boy in the battle of Monmouth, related to me the following incident: "On a certain time during what was called the Tory reign, when they were flushed with the thought that victory was about to perch on their banner, had assembled in force at Freehold, he being a boy of some fifteen years was ordered by them to take the wagon and horses of his father, and with others to go and bring down Black David's (meaning Gen. Forman's), goods, that they might be sold for the use of the King. He started as if to obey, being greatly frightened. He hid in the swamp and to his great delight found before nightfall that they were scattering in every direction, and Freehold was soon clear of them, being routed by the sudden approach of a detachment of the American army; he once more breathed freely and went home."

I do not know that I can give my reader any better description of Gen. David Forman, or the extent of which he was feared by the enemies of his country, than to quote from Barbour's Historical Collections, as follows:

"Gen. Forman was born near Freehold, Monmouth county, N.J. In the war he was the most influential man in the county, commander of the troops at Germantown, and was high in the confidence of Washington. He afterwards was a judge of the county court, and a member of the council of this State. His person was commanding, his address gentlemanly. Possessed of great fearlessness and energy, his name struck terror to the wood robbers and Tories, toward whom he exercised a vindictiveness which only the severity of the times could justify. Woe to the guilty culprits who fell in his power! Without waiting for superfluous ceremony, the gallows was generally their fate. His complexion was dark and swarthy, and such was the terror he inspired among them, he acquired the name of 'Black David' and sometimes 'Devil David,' in contra-distinction to David Forman the sheriff. Were it not for his exertions the county would have suffered far more from its intestine enemies."

It is said that Gen. Forman being so well acquainted with the topography of the country, acted as guide to Gen. Washington in arriving upon the field at the battle of Monmouth, and rendered much important aid during the progress of the fight.

CHAPTER VII.

Samuel W. Forman, referred to in the last item of Chapter III, was about eighty-one years old. He was of the 4th generation from John 1st, and the youngest son of William Forman, my grandfather. The daughters, Mary C. and Margaret C., have given me some further information in regard to the family. Beside themselves and Jonathan Clayton, already named, he had several children that have died, to wit: Frances, aged about twenty-five years; William Henry, a merchant in Cincinnati, at about forty-two. He married Eliza J. Horn, of Cincinnati. Left no children. John C. died at the age of twenty-eight. He married Caroline Reid, of Covington, Ky.; was printer and editor. He left one daughter, named Mary J. Jonathan Clayton by first wife, who lives in Cleveland, Ohio, and is publisher of this work; he married Elizabeth C. Darroch, of Cleveland. He had two sons, Samuel W., living, William Henry, dead. Binder and stationer, in Cleveland, O. Samuel W., married Ida Kenny, of Cleveland. He has one daughter, named Elizabeth Mary. His children by his second wife: Charles Edward, died in his twenty-fourth year, not married. Those living: Frances, married Capt. Cyrus North, Braceville, O.; had twin girls named Jessie May and Grace Clayton. Catherine E., married Thomas Harrison, editor, Lapier, Mich., recently deceased. Had one son, dead. Emma Ormsby, married Newton Allen, farmer, Braceville, O.

I now treat of Capt. John Forman, blacksmith in Freehold, as stated in Chapter I., the fifth son of John 1st. Had sons and daughters to wit: John, James, Thomas and Aaron, and daughters Eleanor, Hannah, Mary, wife of Joseph Throckmorton, and Rebecca. His wife's name was Jane. The executors to his will were his wife, brother Jonathan, Esq., and son-in-law Joseph Throckmorton.

In Jonathan Forman's (Esq.) account book now in my possession, under date of April 29th, 1729, is the following record: "Then weighed the old iron and nails of the court house and jail, the old court house and jail having been burned down, per John Little, Esq., and Jonathan Forman. Weight of iron, 320 pounds, and nails, 84 pounds." In the same book is included accounts of Peter Forman, my great-grandfather, after his father's decease, 1762. It seems they were owners of a large tract of timber land in what is called the Forman neighborhood, and that they carried on an extensive manufactory of flour barrels, which were in great demand at that time, as the book shows that many thousands were furnished to the flouring mills for considerable distances. At that day it would appear that very little grain was exported from the county until it was turned into meal and flour, and had to be barreled. That solves the enigma of the demand for barrels. From the number that appears entered on the old book the business must necessarily have been profitable as they became men of large property. A list of the mills may not be uninteresting. I recite them as they appear on said book, to wit: John Hons, Obadiah Williams, Samuel Dennis, John Sutphin, Abraham Probasco, Wm. Covenhoven, Stephen Auback, Isaac Deys, McDaniel & Shaw, Wm. Lawrence, John Covenhoven, Edmund Williams, John Radford, John Forman, Daniel Hendrickson, John Morris, Andrew Smith, John Gaston, John Richmond, Aaron Van Dorn, (Ashfields,) Thomas Cooper, Joseph Fields, George Williams, Cyrenius Van Mater, Albert Covenhoven, Wm. Van Kirk, Peter Bruere, John Voorhees, Wm. Hampton, Nicholas Van Brunt and John Craig - thirty-two in all. Thirty-two mills! grinding in one county, would seem to indicate that as far back as from one hundred and twenty to one hundred and fifty-five years, (the dates in said book are from 1718 to 1769,) much grain must then have been grown. The soil, I suppose, was then fresh and new, and even from small breadth sown produced liberal crops. I find a small book among my papers, which were once the papers of my great-grandfather Peter, an officer in the old Tennent church, and seems to have been treasurer. My grandfather, Wm. Forman, informed me some sixty years ago, that his father, Peter, led the singing in the church for some years after it was first used for the public worship. His report, May 29th, 1755, shows that the payment for the pews if not paid was to be on interest after May 1st, 1753. This would seem to imply that the church was finished about the year 1753. The Formans were largely represented, and took nearly one-tenth of the pews: Samuel Forman and David Rhea took No.10; Peter Forman, my great-grandfather, No. 11; Jonathan Forman, Esq., No. 24; Joseph Forman, No. 27; Lewis Forman, No. 43; John Forman, No. 18.

In the last will and testament of Peter Forman above named, dated February 24th, 1774: It appears that it was more the fashion for ladies to ride horseback than now, for the old man did not think that he could die in peace until he had bequeathed to each of [illegible] party. daughters, that he had not already provided for, a riding horse and saddle and a colored girl or woman to wait upon her, and gives the name of each of the waiting girls.

It is said from good authority that Col. Samuel Forman, herein referred to, constructed or had constructed, the vault under St. Peter's Church in Freehold, in which he and his two wives were interred.

As it may be interesting to the public, I gave the names, as stated in the instrument found among the papers of my great-grandfather, of twelve men (jurors) sworn to decide on an inquisition held on the 23rd of November, 1780, at Colts Neck, at the house of Joshua Huddy, (who was hung by the refugees and Tories,) tried before Peter Forman, Esq., a justice of the peace in and for the State of New Jersey, to wit: Joseph Throckmorton, Joshua Anderson, Peter Hulshart, Aukey Lefferson, Joseph Johnston, Lewis McKnight, John Hall, David Rhea, Jr., Ort Sutphin, Daniel Barkalow, Abraham Probasco and Nicholas Van Brunt.

There are a number of respectable individuals and families of the name of Forman with whom I am acquainted, not only in Monmouth and Mercer counties, but in other parts of the State of New Jersey and elsewhere, most of whom I believe are connected with the family of which I have been treating. But I have not been able to find in my researches so far connecting links necessary to enable me to write up their genealogy in a satisfactory manner. Should the necessary information ever come to my hand, I shall be greatly pleased to add it to the matter herein given.

CHAPTER VIII.

Since the foregoing chapters were written, the writer learned that a gentleman residing in Allentown, N.J., named Charles R. Hutchinson, was possessed of considerable knowledge as regards the history of the Formans, he having been a descendant of the 6th generation from the pioneer who settled in Monmouth county. He very kindly, at the request of the writer, furnished him with some data which has afforded much assistance in furnishing material for this chapter.

Mr. Hutchinson has furnished data to show that Jonathan, second son of the pioneer, (he is called in the former chapters, Esquire Jonathan,) in addition to those I have recorded, had a son John, born September 14th, 1716, who married Rebecca Taylor; the marriage license is dated March 21st, 1749. John appears to have been settled by his father, Esquire Jonathan, on a property in the southeast corner of Middlesex county, supposed to be at or near Matcheponix creek. His father appears to have been a man of means, and in his will he says he has already provided for John, and merely bequeathed to him ten dollars, apparently to have him understand he did not forget him. The children of John and his wife Rebecca Taylor, were:

Jonathan, born May 7th, 1755; he had attained his majority at the time of the declaration of independence; his sisters were Hannah, who married William Vanderipe, Margaret, Mary and Catharine. Jonathan forthwith enrolled himself, among the friends of his country, and as a private soldier, hastened to battle for the good cause; he and his father both participated in the battle of Monmouth, and in that engagement he had his hat shot off his head. The Formans were well represented upon that memorable occasion. We learn both from tradition and history, that several of the name participated in the battle in various capacities. The patriotism and attachment of the family to the cause of liberty during this trying period of our country's history, is unquestioned, and stands as a just mark of pride to us of these later generations, who enjoy the blessings of independence and liberty for which they in common contended under such difficult and trying circumstances.

It is fair to presume that Jonathan lived on his father's homestead until his removal in 1796, to the farm where he died; said farm laid about one mile northwest of what is now Smithburg, adjoining lands of Joseph Preston and others. He was not far from seventy-years old, according to the memory of the writer.

The name of the first wife of Jonathan, was Margaret Harbert, whom he married, May 6th, 1779. They had five children, viz.:

Rebecca, born February 20th, 1780, married Robert Hutchinson, June 10th, 1797, by whom she had eight children, to wit: Abraham R. Hutchinson, born May 12th, 1808; Jonathan Forman Hutchinson, Salvanus Hutchinson and Rev. Aaron F. Hutchinson. The names of the others, are to the writer unknown. The correspondent of the writer, Mr. Charles R. Hutchinson, is a son of the said Abraham R. Hutchinson, and is of the 6th generation from the pioneer of the family in Monmouth county, as herein elsewhere stated.

Richard, born December 5th, 1781, married Deborah Hammell.

Catharine, born May 22d, 1783, married Aaron Reid.

Aaron B., born April 22d, 1785, removed to Ohio.

John, born June 3rd, 1788, married a woman named Andrews, by whom he had children, viz.: Delilah, removed many years since to the West, and John A. Forman, recently deceased; he lived on his farm about one mile west of Charleston Springs. There may have been other children.

Jonathan Forman, having lost his wife by death, married a second wife, Martha Preston, a daughter of Joseph and Sarah Preston. They had six children, viz.:

Susan, married John E. Davison, by whom she had a number of children, a few only of whom are remembered, to wit: William I., Jonathan F., Gilbert W. and Phebe Ann.

Margaret, born September 22d, 1795, married Enoch Cheeseman. The names of a part of the children were: Charlotte, married John A. Forman, and Lydia married Jonathan F. Davison, and Jonathan F. Cheeseman, and other names not known by writer.

Phebe, married Thomas Davis. Removed West.

Jonathan, died when a young man.

William, married Gertrude Gravett, removed to Wayne county, N.Y.

Martha, married Jesse Parker, by whom she had four children, to wit: William Parker, Margaret Parker, Edmund Parker and Alexander Parker. They all reside on the homestead of the father; this was also the homestead of the grandfather of the family herein referred to.

It may be deemed of sufficient interest to state in closing this brief history that the Forman's have evinced a great preferance for the healing art as a profession. The writer can trace out the names of at least nine M.D.'s, who at different periods and places have figured as respectable medical practitioners, and who either bore that name or were lineally and directly descended from the family.

N.B.- The writing of the foregoing history was commenced in August, 1883, and closed in December, 1885. Some of the characters alluded to have died since the work was begun.

LOUNSBERRY, TAYLOR DEEDS ARE PRAISED IN TWO ADDRESSES. Grand Forks Man Pays Tribute to Tribune Founder at Memorial Service. Memories of two men who made newspaper history in North Dakota were honored Friday afternoon at ceremonies of the North Dakota Press Association here.

Portraits of Colonel C. A. Lounsberry, founder of the Bismarck Tribune, and Walter C. Taylor, late publisher of the LaMoure Chronicle, were unveiled at the services. H, D. Paulson, editor of the Fargo Forum, and W. P. Davies, editor of the Grand Forks Herald, paid high tribute to the two men in addresses.

Paulson lauded Taylor as a former state official and newspaperman who had played an important part in the history of North Dakota. Present were Taylor's widow and his daughter, Miss Miriam C. Taylor.

Lounsberry Was Pioneer

Davies paid tribute to Lounsberry as a publisher, pioneer and soldier. It was Colonel Lounsberry who telegraphed the first report of the"massacre" of General George A. Custer and his men in "Custer's Last Stand" on the Little Big Horn in 1876. His story included about 50,000 words, the longest ever telegraphed up to that time.

Pointed jests predominated at the banquet Friday evening with Former Governor George F. Shafer and Governor William Langer, speakers, "panning" newspapermen.

Supreme Court Justice A. G. Burr also addressed the banquet. Kenneth W. Simons, editor of the Bismarck Tribune, presided as toastmaster.

Shafer facetiously "panned" the editors and publishers for their "peculiarities" referring to his many experiences in public life with men of the newspaper fraternity. Langer spoke on "Whither Are We Drifting?" and participated in the business of "kidding" the newshawks.

Governor Langer paid special tribute to the sincerity and ability of the late Earle H. Tostevin, editor of the Mandan Pioneer.

Saturday's activities opened with a "stag" breakfast and the morning was concluded with a visit to the new state capitol building, with transportation furnished by the association of commerce.

Lounsberry Born In 1843

"Born in DeKalb County, Indiana, March 27, 1843," Davies said Friday afternoon, "Clement Augustus Lounsberry, son of Rufus Lounsberry and Sara Weeks Lounsberry, inherited from a long line of ancestors the traditions of patriotism and public service."

His grandfather, the speaker said, fought under Washington at Trenton.

Lounsberry attended the schools of his native state and Michigan, and the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861 found him a healthy, husky farm lad of 18, eager to play his part in the great drama of life. Responding to Lincoln's first call, he enlisted April 21, 1861, as a private in Company I, First Michigan Volunteers. Three days before the expiration of his 90-day term of enlistment he was wounded and taken prisoner at the first battle of Bull Run. He spent the next year in southern prisons and, when mustered out re-enlisted immediately, saying that he owed the confederates for a year's board and lodging and he wished to pay the debt.

He was mustered out of service a colonel. He was wounded four times and, although he retained his general physical vigor, he never completely recovered from lameness resulting from two wounds.

Sketched War Record

Davies sketched Lounsberry's war record as follows: "Colonel Lounsberry participated in the entire siege of Petersburg and was placed in charge of that city immediately after its surrender; he was present at Alexandria when Ellsworth was killed; he served at Antietam. Fredericksburg, Horse Shoe Bend, the Wilderness and Spotsylvania; he was present with the Army of the Potomac when Lee surrendered. At Spotsylvania his little command of 25 men under Sergeant William Gleason, afterward for many years a resident of Jamestown, N. D., engaged in a desperate conflict with a band of confederates in which, after ammunition had been expended and the men had come to close quarters, the fight was continued with bayonets and clubbed muskets. Of the 27 Union men, 22 were either killed or wounded, and it was there that Lounsberry received one of his serious wounds."

Investing his savings in sheep after the war, Davies continued, Lounsberry drove his flock overland from Michigan to Martin County, Minnesota, where he settled on government land and undertook to make a home. He had married Lucretia Victoria Hoskins at Marengo, Mich., July 27, 1864, and the young couple looked forward to a happy and prosperous farm life. But the young soldier's wounds had unfitted him for active outdoor labor, and the general farming conditions in that section were unfavorable then.

Became Editorial Writer

For three years Lounsberry served as auditor of Martin County and then established the Martin County Atlas, which he subsequently moved to Wells. In 1872 he disposed of his interests there to take a position as editorial writer for the Minneapolis Tribune. In connection with his work he visited North Dakota, spent some time in Bismarck, then scarcely a village, and impressed with the possibilities of the territory, left Minneapolis and established the Bismarck Tribune.

During these years Colonel Lounsberry had several eastern dailies as special correspondent.

The Northern Pacific was pushing westward and the Indians, fearful of its influence and resentful of its approach, were stubbornly impeding its progress. Troops were sent to guard its construction. Gold was discovered in the Black Hills and the second gold rush in American history began. The frontier was being crowded back. Colonel Lounsberry, himself a part of that era, sensed its meaning and portrayed its progress in terse dispatches and illuminating articles. His ability as a writer was recognized in editorial rooms where the best talent of the nation was employed.

His Outstanding Achievement

"His outstanding achievement as a special correspondent," said the speaker, "was that of telling the world of the disaster which had befallen Custer and his command at the little Big Horn on that June day in 1876."

For days there was silence after the regiment had left Bismarck. Then came the startling news that Custer and his entire command had been killed.

Bismarck was at the western end of the telegraph line, the nearest point with which contact with civilization could be made. Hurriedly interviewing those on the steamer who had information, and piecing together their fragmentary statements into a consistent story, Colonel Lounsberry wired to the New York Herald 14 columns, giving a complete account of the Little Big Horn battle in so far as details were available. His own military experience enabled him to interpret some phases of that tragedy in a manner which would have been impossible without that experience. That dispatch, which occupied many hours of sending, is said to have been the most detailed account of any major event ever received by wire by an American newspaper up to that time. The tolls on that dispatch are said to have been over $3,000. Other reports, less detailed, were furnished to Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and other papers."

— Edited from Distance

During the winter of 1874-75, he reported the proceedings of the Minnesota legislature for the Minneapolis Tribune and St. Paul Dispatch, leaving his own paper at Bismarck in the care of subordinates. Because of heavy snow, the Northern Pacific was shut down for the winter. In that emergency Colonel Lounsberry edited the Bismarck Tribune by wire from St. Paul.

He was a familiar figure during legislative sessions in St. Paul and at Bismarck, serving Twin City papers, the Associated Press and northwestern syndicates. In 1887, having disposed of his interests in the Bismarck Tribune, he established the Duluth Daily News. Later he was one of the board of judges at the world's fair in Chicago in 1893, editor of the St. Paul Globe and manager of the Fargo Argus. In 1895 he established the Record at Fargo, a historical monthly which he published for 10 years,meanwhile assembling material for his elaborate and authentic History of North Dakota, an exceedingly valuable reference work. An active Mason, he was instrumental in establishing Masonic bodies at Fairmont, Minn., and Bismarck.

During the intervals of an unusually active life, Colonel Lounsberry studied law and was admitted to the bar. After his retirement from active newspaper work he was appointed special agent of the general land office, with headquarters in Washington. He occupied that position until advancing years and failing sight compelled his retirement. He died in Washington Oct. 2, 1926, and his remains lie with those of other soldier dead in Arlington cemetery.

Leaves Three Children

Children of Colonel Lounsberry's first marriage are Mrs. C. F. V. (Hattie) Draper, San Diego, Cal., now a widow, and George H. and William C. both of Duluth. Two other sons died several years ago. Mrs. Lounsberry died in 1912. Some years later Colonel Lounsberry married Mrs. Bronson, and after her death he wed Miss E. E. Guyton, his total blindness requiring the constant attention of a nurse and companion.

WILL OF

CARY LUDLOW

"In the name of God, Amen. I, Cary Ludlow, of the City, County and State of New York, Gentleman, being in good health of body and enjoying my usual understanding for which blessed be God, think it necessary to make a Testamentary disposition of my Estate, which I do in manner and form following to wit: First: I give and bequeath to my beloved and affectionate wife, Hester Ludlow, all my personal property in my house fronting on State Street also the Rents due and owing to me and which shall become due and owing to me from my Tenants to the quarter preceeding my decease, saving and excepting from this bequest what is hereinafter given to my respective Children and Grandchildren. Secondly: I give, devise and bequeath to my said wife all rents, issues and profits of my dwelling house on Brooklyn Heights as occupied by one, Thomas Everit, under a lease, also the rents, issues and profits of my dwelling house fronting on State Street in which I now reside with the Coach house in the rear fronting Pearl Street, to have and to hold the same during her natural life.

"I give and bequeath to my daughter, Catherine, the wife of Jacob Morton, Esq., such articles as she may have in her possession belonging to me; also to my son, William C. Ludlow, whatever articles he may have in his possession belonging to me, also my Silver hilted Sword. To my beloved granddaughter, Elizabeth Matilda Ludlow, my Grand Pianna Forte, and all of her music books and the small Shagreen secretary used by her. To my grandson, James W. H. Ludlow, my spy glass, which belonged to my deceased son, Abraham Ludlow, however reserving the use of it to my wife, Hester, during her life. Also, Abraham's Secretary, my small Gold Watch and my Gilt Sword, to be delivered to him when my executors think proper. To my grandson, William Ludlow, and to his brothers, George, Cary and Charles, all my Law books, which I had promised their deceased father, should they pursue the practice of the Law, to be delivered to them when any of them are licenses to said practice. I give and bequeath to their mother, Ellen Ludlow, the widow of my son, George Ludlow, during her widowhood, and then to her children named above, the rents, issues and profits of my house at 145 Front Street, to be used for the support, maintenance and Education of the said children until a division of the said Estate shall take place as is hereinafter directed.

[illegible] being in good health of body and enjoying my usual understanding [illegible] necessary to make a testamentary disposition of my Estate, which I [illegible] in manner and form following, to wit: First: I give and bequeath [illegible] my house [illegible] and owing to me and which [illegible] to me from my [illegible] after given to my [illegible] my said wife [illegible] same during her natural life.

[illegible] the wife of [illegible] my son [illegible]

"I will, order and direct that my Executrix and Executors hereinafter named shall sell and dispose of all the residue of my Real Estate saving that which is set apart for the use of my wife, Hester Ludlow, and Ellen Ludlow, the widow of my son, George Ludlow, and their children, at the most advantageous benefit and I divide the same as follows -

"One full 1/5 part to my wife, Hester Ludlow, in addition to what is herein before bequeathed to her.

"One full 1/5 part to my daughter, Catherine Morton, the wife of Jacob Morton, Esq., to be held separate and apart from her said husband.

"One full 1/5 part to my son, William C. Ludlow.

"One full 1/5 part to the children of my deceased son, George Ludlow, to wit: William, Cary, Charles and Hester Ludlow, in equal proportions. And whereas, the widow and children of my said deceased son, George Ludlow, may have occasion for a present support since the decease of my son, I order and direct that the dwelling house in which they used to reside and which rents for 250 pounds per annum, the proceeds shall be placed in the hands of William C. Ludlow and John C. Morton and paid to the said Ellen Ludlow during her widowhood and the minorities of the said children.

"One full 1/5 part to my Grandchildren, Elizabeth Matilda Ludlow and James W. H. Ludlow, the Children of my deceased son, Edmund Ludlow, and I appoint my wife, Hester Ludlow, and my relatives, Charles Ludlow and Frances Sarah Ludlow, Guardians of my said two Grandchildren during their respective minorities and I do recommend to them to consult and advise with the said Guardians in all matters that may concern their interest and welfare and more especially with their dear Grandparent Hester Ludlow.

"I do nominate, constitute and appoint my wife, Hester Ludlow, my son, William C. Ludlow, and my nephew, Charles Ludlow, executrix and executors of this my last will and Testament and further direct that toward the payment of my debts and funeral Charges my Executors shall sell my real estate in the Hardenbergh Patent in Sullivan and Ulster counties and my lot in Fostertown, near Newburgh, in Orange county, and my right in Wawayanda Patent in the drowned lands, also my lands in Essex county in New Jersey, held in company with Richard Ludlow, also my lands in Randolph county in the State of Virginia, the Patent, title and Deed are now in the hands of my friend, Charles Snowden, at Reading, in Pennsylvania, also my lot at Corleas Hook and my houses fronting on Elizabeth Street and Mott Street, near Bunker Hill.

"And whereas I have given 1/5 part of my estate to my two Grandchildren, James W. Horne Ludlow and Elizabeth Matilda Ludlow, it is my will that the principal be placed at interest on good security or vested in the stock of some Public funds and that the annual interest shall be paid to them during their minorities or until they marry, whichever shall happen first.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 12th day of January 1814.
